A Big Yield of Potatoes.

A lady of Sumter raised six hundred bushels of sweet potatoes on an acre of ground. Mr. J. M. Johnstone has her written statement to that effect and the statement of the parties who measured the potatoes and the land, sworn to before a Trial Justice. She expected to exhibit a sample of the potatoes at the Newberry County Fair.

The lady is Mrs. Jonathan Maxcey. formerly of this County.

The house of Harry Elmore, colored, on Mrs. Chalmers' place, near Jalapa, caught- fire last Thursday, and came near barning down. The bedding, furniture and everything else in the house were burned. Old Ned Hampton, one hundred years old, and two small children were in the bouse, and these were rescued with much difficulty by Mr. Hayne Chalmers and others. The fire was accidental: the clothes of one of the children caught fire, and the child got into a bed to extinguish the flames.

No County Fair.

It was quite late in the season before the Agricultural & Mechanical Joint Stock Company was formed, leaving very little time for making preparations for a County Fair. It was decided, however, by the Directors to make an attempt, and Premium Lists were issued last week for a Fair to be held the 22nd, 23d and 24th. Monday the bad weather came, and Tuesday morning the ground was covered with ice and snow and the skies were overcast. With these facts and prospects before them, the Directors met Tuesday morning, and decided that, under the circumstances, it would not be wise to attempt to have a County Fair, and no Fair was held.

The Shadow on the Snow. There isn't much snow yet, but there is a neap of shadow-and the shadow is the shadow of Christmas, which like other coming events, projects its umbra in front of it. In every family two important problems elder members are asking themselves, less eagerly speculating as to what they books of adventure and exciting narrative; while the little girls are bemoaning the diapidated condition of the present generation of dolls, and artfully trying to inveigle mamma into that phrase so full of promise. We'll see at Christmas-time." It really is no easy task to select a line of Christians presents, so as to insure that every little one shall get just what it will most appreciate, and none shall be unduly favored; and as the holiday season draws at any other time, the need of some reliable manual, by referring to which she may know just what is to be had, and just what everything will cost And luckily in this age of journalistic enterprise, the very thing she wants lies ready to her hand. For the winter number of the Fashion Quarterly is out, and a copy can be had for only fifteen cents. Within the compass of its ninety odd pages are illustrations of every kind and description of Christmas gifts; from the rattle or toys for the threeyear old infant, up to the gold-headed cane or dressing gown for papa, or the longwished-for watch for mamma. Dolls and doll's furniture, tin toys, mechanical toys, telegraphic machines, bonbon boxes, veloci pedes, fancy stationery, gorgeous plushcovered boxes, savings banks, magical ap-paratus, books of every kind—in short, the whole range of possibilities in the way of Christmas presents is covered; and parents' purses and children's fancies can alike be suited, however fastidious the one, or attenuated the other. Indeed, we believe it

The 7th annual report of this institution has just been issued. There are in the Orphanage thirty-two orphans, whose bodily, mental and moral interests are looked after with parental solicitude and care. They are instructed by good teachers, and at the same time are taught to work, so that they may be prepared for useful lives when they grow up. The Library of the Orphanage contains 827 volumes, most of them gifts from friends; some have been purchased.

The "Orphans' Seminary," a house intended to supply chapel, library, museum and school accommodations for one hundred pupils, was begun last March, and is progressing finely. About $2,000 has been collected and expended on this work; and $1,750 more is needed to complete it.

There has been added during the past year $879.58 to the Endowment Fund, making the total at present $5,-

In the line of manual labor the Orphanage has a good printing office, from which is issued an excellent paper "Our Monthly," the orphan boys doing the entire work of the office, at a net benefit the past year of $166.90. The farm belonging to the Orphanage is cultivated by the larger boys.

Rev. W. P. Jacobs, Superintendent, is doing a noble work, and he deserves the earnest sympathy and help of all Christian people.

It is said that Pelham's Drug Store is being rapidly filled with the largest and most unique line of Fancy Goods, Cologne, Hair Brushes, Toilet Articles, Fine Lamps, Wines, Brandies, Cigars, &c., that has ever been brought to Newberry. It will doubtless repay a visit to the Drug Emporium.

Oh for a cow. We have been saving, and saving for more than a year, and wont mind giving as much as $10 or even $15 for one. I had a call the other day from a man, he didn't own a cow himself, but come from another man, or leastwise a woman, for the man was dead. The Milo Maize. Three weeks ago we gave a description of a new grain that is being cultivated by Mr. Champion of this County. The following notice of the same grain is taken from the Southern Lumberman; The Rev. H. D. Pratt, of South Carolina, who was for some time a missionary in South America, has presented to the public a new cereal, which he calls milo maize. It is found in Colombia in large quantities, and forms the common food of the working classes there, and is also used for working animals. Mr. Pratt has been successfully growing it in South Carolina for several years. The cakes made from it, ground into meal, are preferred to corn-meal bread. The Savannah Guano Company's chemist pronounces it superior in food qualities to wheat. Experiments show that from 50 to 100 bushels of clean seed per acre can be raised. Mr. Pratt describes the plant as follows: "The plant is allied to the sorghum and Guinea corn families, and should not be planted where there is any danger of mixing them. The grain is smaller and more mealy than the Guinea corn, the heads are larger and more compact, and the color is milk white instead of red. It differs from the sorghum in this, that the sugar it contains is fully converted into corn when the grain matures-so that the pith of the green stalks becomes as dry and tasteless as that of Indian corn when the stalk is dead.
